777 lands in Seattle after setting world speed and distance records

SEATTLE, April 2, 1997 - Following a record-setting circumnavigation of the world, a Boeing 777-200 landed today at Boeing Field in Seattle, establishing a new world speed record for its size and class of airplane.