First Boeing Business Jet Dressed For The Evening

With its distinctive new livery sparkling under the evening skies, the first Boeing Business Jet rolls out of the paint hangar in Renton, Wash. The ultra long-range executive jet is a special derivative of the Next-Generation 737-700. Eight of the new jets will be delivered by the end of 1998. Twenty-nine firm orders have been announced.

###