Boeing Names Stonecipher Acting CFO

Boeing today announced that President and Chief Operating Officer Harry Stonecipher also will be the company's acting chief financial officer until a successor is in place for Boyd Givan. Givan, as previously announced, retired effective Sept. 1. The company is currently conducting an executive search among internal and external candidates for the position.

###

For further information:
Larry McCracken
(206) 655-6123