Uzbekistan Airways' First Boeing 757-200 Readies For Flight

Uzbekistan Airways' first 757-200 prepares for takeoff from Boeing Field in Seattle, Wash. The airplane is the first of two 757-200s the carrier plans to use for routes connecting Uzbekistan to several cities in Europe, the Middle East and Asia. Uzbekistan Airways - the flag carrier of Uzbekistan - has grown to become one of the largest carriers in the former Soviet Union region.
