Milestone Boeing 767-300ER Delivered to Aeroflot -- Russian International Airlines

The 767th 767 to be built by Boeing was delivered today to G.E. Capital Aviation Services. The airplane will be operated by Aeroflot - Russian International Airlines. Aeroflot plans to use its newest 767-300ER (extended range), plus one delivered in August and two more to be delivered later this year on its American routes. Aeroflot configured its new airplane for 197 passengers in three classes: 10 in first class, 34 in business class and 153 in economy.

###