Czech Airlines Accepts New Boeing 737 Jetliners

One of two Boeing 737 airplanes awaits delivery at the Boeing Field delivery center in Seattle, Wash., to CSA Czech Airlines. CSA accepted the Boeing 737-400, along with another identical model, and immediately flew the new airplanes to Prague. The Boeing 737 is the workhorse of many of the world's most prestigious airlines. Boeing continues to produce the advanced technology Next-Generation 737 at the Renton facility.
