

U.S. Air Force Christens Boeing C-17 "The City of St. Louis"

U.S. Air Force Christens Boeing C-17 "The City of St. Louis"

The U. S. Air Force dedicated a C-17 Globemaster III "The City of St. Louis" Oct. 10, 2000, during a ceremony at The Boeing Company in St. Louis.

More than 2,000 Boeing employees in St. Louis produce the cargo door, cargo ramp, cockpit, main landing gear pods, pylons and several thousand detail parts and subassemblies for the C-17. Final assembly of the aircraft takes place in Long Beach, Calif.

For further information:

Contact: Patricia Frost

office: (314) 234-6996
