Delta's 100th 767 Is A 767-400ER Model

Delta Air Lines has introduced the 100th new 767 into its fleet. The airplane shown here is a 767-400ER, the newest member of the 767 family. The 767-400ER has the lowest operating cost per trip of any widebody airplane, and a 777-style interior, which is preferred by passengers. Delta also flies 767-200s, 767-300s and 767-300ERs jetliners.

###

For further information:
Debbie Heathers
(206) 579-5159