'Yananyi Dreaming' Brightens Boeing 737-800 for Qantas

Australian flag carrier Qantas Airways is celebrating the entry to service of a new fleet of Boeing 737-800 airplanes with this special "Yananyi Dreaming" livery inspired by the dramatic landscape around Uluru, or Ayers Rock, in central Australia. Yananyi means going/traveling. The 15 new Qantas 737-800s will be delivered by August 2002 to accommodate growth on domestic Australian routes.
