Boeing Upgrades South African Airways' 747s with New-Look Millennium Interior

The Boeing Company, Rockwell Collins and FLS Aerospace have completed their eighth and final 747-400 with the New Millennium airplane interior, for South African Airways. The New Millennium interior includes cabin interior reconfiguration, featuring new first, business and economy class seating. In addition, this program marks a first for a fully digital, Audio Video On-Demand throughout the 747-400 cabin. The entire airplane has been fitted with the Rockwell Collins P@ssport™ In-Flight Entertainment System.
