Boeing Unmanned Combat Aircraft Makes Aviation History

A Boeing Joint Unmanned Combat Air System (J-UCAS) X-45 aircraft releases an inert Global Positioning System-guided bomb and makes aviation history today at the Naval Air Warfare Center Weapons Division Range, China Lake, Calif. The mission was the first time an unmanned autonomous aircraft has dropped a precision bomb on a target from an internal weapons bay.

###

For further information:
Bill Barksdale
Boeing Air Force Systems
office: (314) 232-0860
mobile: (314) 707-3294
william.a.barksdale@boeing.com