Southwest, Boeing Honor Ronald McDonald House Charities, Kids

Southwest Airlines rededicated a Boeing 737-700 "The Spirit of Hope" in support of Ronald McDonald House Charities during a ceremony at Boeing Field today. The Southwest jet features stowage bins embossed with artwork created by children from Ronald McDonald House Charities of Western Washington. The bin doors have brightly-colored crayon drawings of happy hearts, brilliant rainbows, oversized flowers, and smiling faces. The Ronald McDonald House Program is the primary corporate charity of Southwest Airlines. The "Spirit of Hope" departed Boeing Field for additional celebrations in Dallas, San Antonio, and Philadelphia.
