Pegasus Aviation Finance Company Orders Six 787s

Pegasus Aviation Finance Company of San Francisco has ordered six 787 Dreamliners, becoming the third leasing company to purchase the all-new airplane. The order is the result of a close teaming effort and agreement among Boeing, Pegasus and Blue Panorama of Italy, which is transferring its previous order for four 787s to Pegasus. Blue Panorama will lease the airplanes from Pegasus. Pegasus ordered two 787s in addition to the four it is obtaining from Blue Panorama, for a total of six. "We are delighted to expand our strong relationship with both Boeing, this being our second new order with them in the past year, and Blue Panorama, who is an existing lease customer," said Rich Wiley, president and CEO of Pegasus.
