ANA Exercises Two 767-300 Boeing Converted Freighter Options

Tokyo-based ANA (All Nippon Airways) exercised options for two additional 767-300 Boeing Converted Freighters, bringing its total order to five firm conversions and two options. ANA plans to use the freighters as part of its joint venture cargo operation called ANA & JP Express.

Boeing will induct ANA's first airplane in April 2007 and redeliver by December.
