Boeing Business Jets, Rockwell Collins announce EVS offering for BBJ

Boeing [NYSE: BA] Business Jets and Rockwell Collins today introduced an Enhanced Vision System (EVS) offering for BBJ operators. The Rockwell Collins EVS presents an image (shown here) of the external environment on the Head-up Guidance System (HGS[®]) and head-down displays to enhance pilot situational awareness of terrain and the airport environment in low-visibility situations. When displayed on the HGS, EVS allows the pilot to descend below minimums, if the visual references to the intended runway are visible using the EVS.
