Boeing Submits TSAT Production Proposal to U.S. Air Force

The Transformational Satellite Communications System (TSAT) is designed to provide survivable, protected, high-capacity, Internet-like connection for the nation's warfighters. It fulfills the military's three main Network Centric mission -- communications on the move, Airborne Intelligence Surveillance and Reconnaissance, and control of strategic assets.

###

For further information:
Dave Garlick
Space & Intelligence Systems
The Boeing Company
(310) 362-8286
dave.garlick@boeing.com
Lewis Brinson
Space & Intelligence Systems
The Boeing Company
(310) 364-6125
lewis.b.brinson@boeing.com