Air France's Boeing 777 Freighter Arrives at Paris Air Show

PRNewswire
LE BOURGET, France
(NYSE:BA)

LE BOURGET, France, June 14 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Air France's newest Boeing (NYSE: BA) 777 Freighter arrived Sunday in Le Bourget ahead of Monday's opening of the 48th International Paris Air Show. The 777 Freighter will be on display during the show, highlighting its fuel efficiency and cargo capacity.

The 777 Freighter is the second 777F delivered to Air France from its May 2005 order for five. Air France was the launch customer for the 777 Freighter program.

The twin-engine Boeing 777 Freighter is the most fuel-efficient airplane in its category, a key element in its leading economic and environmental performance. It has a cargo capacity of 103 metric tons (113 tons) with a range of 9,038 kilometers (4,880 nautical miles).

The 777 Freighter is due to leave the Paris Air Show Wednesday night, June 17.

###

Neg.: K64720

Contact:
Andrew Davis
International and Sales Communications
+44 7827 240 093
Andrew.davis2@boeing.com

SOURCE: Boeing

Web site: http://www.boeing.com/

Additional assets available online: Photos (1)