

Boeing Statement on WestJet Commitment to Order 10 Next-Generation 737s

Boeing Statement on WestJet Commitment to Order 10 Next-Generation 737s

SEATTLE, May 7, 2013 - Boeing (NYSE: BA) is delighted that WestJet has committed to order 10 Next-Generation 737-800s. The commitment, with a current list-price value of $891 million, is a key component of the Calgary-based carrier's strategy to optimize and modernize its fleet.

Boeing looks forward to working with WestJet to finalize the order in the coming days. When finalized, the agreement will be posted to the Boeing Orders & Deliveries web site as a firm order.

#

Contact:

Tim Bader
North America/Leasing Communications
Boeing Commercial Airplanes
+1 206-859-3633
tim.s.bader@boeing.com
